

Centre for innovation and technology transfer (CITT) for laser projects ELI Beamlines (Extreme Light Infrastructure) and HiLASE is focused on technology transfer and commercialization outputs, one of the most modern laser equipment in Europe. In our team we are looking for a suitable candidate for a position:

PRODUCT MANAGER

Product manager coordinates the entire process of technology transfer and commercialization for the purpose of the practical uses of technologies arising in the centres of ELI Beamlines and HiLASE.

The suitable candidate will be responsible for:

- Coordination of activities in the process of technology transfer and commercialization outputs ELI Beamlines and HiLASE, in particular:
  - Protection of intellectual property rights (patents, utility models)
  - License agreement (negotiation conditions, design)
  - Making contact and developing cooperation with industrial partners
  - Monitoring the implementation of the performance of the contractual conditions
- Financial valuation of output of ELI Beamlines and HiLASE
- Cooperation with scientific team ELI Beamlines and HiLASE
- Cooperation on the identification of appropriate technologies
- Identification of suitable partners in the sphere of application
- Reporting and monitoring of the process of technology transfer and commercialization
- Selection of topics and the preparation of awareness-raising and information campaigns for Science and Research staff
- Cooperation with other members of team CITT

Requirements:

- University education, preferably in physics or related field, alternatively technical specialization
- At least 5 years of relevant working experience in the field of technology transfer and commercialization
- Orientation in the field of protection of intellectual property rights
- Fluency in English language, the knowledge of other language is beneficial
- High working initiative and willingness to learn
- Self-reliance, strategic and analytical thinking
- Excellent communication and negotiation skills, patience and pleasant manner
- Willingness to travel, driving licence group B

We offer:

- The opportunity to participate in this unique scientific project
- Career growth, professional education
- Competitive and motivating salary
- 5 weeks of holidays and other employee benefits
- Pleasant work environment

Applications and motivation letter should be sent to Mrs Mirka Svobodová, HR Project Manager (svobodova@fzu.cz, <tel:+420266052547>, +420733690901). Please include the following text in your cover letter, to allow us to process your personal details:

I agree that, according to the decree 101/2000 coll.(Czech Republic), my personal details sent to FZU AV CR, v.v.i. , Na Slovance 2, 18221 Praha 8, Czech Republic can be used for the purpose of obtaining employment and management of database of employment candidates. This permission is given for the period of one year and can be at any time withdrawn by giving a notice in writing.